with a quarter of the global population now owning and relying on their smartphones daily, they are our second brain in our hands one of the first was turkey with the its system which is based on serialization and data matrix codes less than 1 in 30 older people become ill with depression hardie is a managing director in the new york office of houlihan lokey howard zukin